Citrus Season Ends Abruptly

SRLC's 2015-2016 citrus season ended abruptly in February due to citrus crop failures in Florida. Poor quality citrus attributed to the unseasonable Florida weather caused fruit to develop a blight and size problem. Lions were hopeful that the February sale would go off but about a week before the February pick up date Lion Carl Gilbert was notified by the distributor that, due to poor quality. Citrus would not be shipped in February or March, thus ending SRLC sales. About 300 customers had ordered fruit and Lion Carl asked for volunteers to contact customers about the cancellation. Customers who had email addresses on file were notified electronically. Customers with telephone numbers listed were contacted during the week prior to the February 20 pickup date. Carl anticipated that some customers would not get the notification about the cancellation so he recruited some Lions to join him at the SPSHS parking lot on Saturday to meet customers who showed up that morning. Carl "bribed" the Lions with hot coffee and a tasty treat and about a half dozen volunteers arrived. As expected, about 8:45 am several cars arrived and were greeted by Lions and given an explanation about the citrus problem. Most appreciated this notification and said, "We will be back next year." The reduced citrus sales this year will seriously impact the club's budget and adjustments will have to be made. Perhaps some alternative fund raisers can be considered to help the budget crisis. We are hopeful that the citrus crisis will be resolved and next year's sale can go on as usual.

Peace Poster Winner 2016

For many years SRLC has participated in the annual Peace Poster contest and on March 1 the members had an opportunity to meet the 2016 finalist, Lily Strandquist, a seventh grader at Severn River Middle School. Lily showed her poster and told about how she chose to design it to match this year's theme. For a seventh grader Lily was very articulate and her artistic talents were excellent. Lily's poster will be entered into District competition and should do well. SRLC presented Lily with a well deserved award, a fifty dollar check. Lily was accompanied that evening by her parents, Michael and Karen, her brother, her grandparents and art teacher Erica Oldershaw interacting with the family was an enjoyable experience. We wish Lily the very best as her poster entry goes to District level competition.

Youth Rise Leo Club, Severna Park Middle School

Youth Rise Leo is a community service club in Severna Park Middle School. We run donations and charity projects that people in need. The members of the club go to Brightview and Sunrise Senior Living to help out the residents. We make crafts, play games, and ask them if they need any help. Youth Rise Leo members volunteer at events for Halloween, Christmas, Mother's Day and other special days at the retirement homes. Some things that we have done are make lunches for the homeless and make blankets that will be donated to people in need. We have also packed up backpacks with items that will help people in the winter, which were donated by students in the school. The backpacks were taken away by an organization that distributed them to homeless people near Christmas time. The Youth Rise Leo club has run many toy, clothing, and book drives, and our most recent book drive is to help create little libraries that children can take or borrow books from. Little Free Libraries are there to promote reading and they help kids who don't have access to a library. We have many plans for what we will do to help later on, such as collecting money and creating care packages to send to troops overseas. Youth Rise Leo helps students develop leadership skills by organizing community service projects. Students in this club serve their community and have a rewarding experience. They enjoy improving their community and the lives of people around them.

NEW FACES OF CIVIL ENGINEERING COLLEGIATE EDITION

SHARE

From an array of worthy nominees, ASCE has selected 10 talented early achievers as this year's New Faces of Civil Engineering - College Edition. Chosen for their academic accomplishments and commitment to serving others, these well-rounded students reflect the hope and promise of the next generation of civil engineers.

Congratulations!!
Mr. Gary Wallace was named one of ASCE's 2016
"New Faces of Civil Engineering".

Gary Wallace Jr. S.M.A.SCE Morgan State University
SRLC Scholarship winner

ASCE and our members have eagerly celebrated National Engineers Week this year, including outreach events nationwide, expressions in social media, and most notably, the announcement of the 2016 class of ASCE New Faces of Civil Engineering - College. These New Faces represent the future of civil engineering, and given this group's remarkable accomplishments and personalities, that future would appear to be in good hands. - See more at: <http://blogs.asce.org/ascen-2016-new-faces-of-civil-engineering-college-a-highlight-of-engineers-week>

Arundel Community Development Services

The featured presenters at the March 1 meeting were Leanne Garabedian and George Leslie from the Arundel Community Development Services-ACDS, a county service that assists with residential property rehabilitation. The presenters showed pictures of improvements that can be made to residences that improve the safety and quality of life of home owners with disabilities or who are aged. Some of the improvements listed include alterations to a home's exterior when the outside has deteriorated. On the inside modifications can include accessibility modification such as chair lifts, widening doorways to give acces to wheelchair, handrails, access ramps, driveways, heating, plumbing and electrical, kitchen and bathroom upgrades, and painting to name a few. ACDS upgrades are available at a reduced cost and deferred loans. Leanne and George suggested that anyone interested can contact ACDS at www.acds.org or by telephoning the office a 410-222-7600.
